*1,000+ Garden Perennials
Proceeds to the Food Bank at St.
Bartholomew's Church, Regent Park, part of the Daily Bread Food Bank Network*

For the past several years, Cantemus Singers have raised money for the Food Bank that operates at St. Bartholomew's Anglican Church in Regent's Park. The Food Bank is part of Toronto's Daily Bread Food Bank network, and it provides emergency food supplies to several hundred individuals and families throughout the year and Christmas hampers during the holiday season.

Each year we raise about $2,500 for this great cause by selling garden perennials at the Beach residence of our conductor and founder, Michael Erdman. On the weekend before the Victoria Day holiday, as well as the long weekend itself, we will be selling over 1,000 beautiful, well-grown garden perennials (those are the plants that come back every year), including flowering plants, hostas, grasses and numerous plants for shade. The plants are priced to be more reasonable than local garden centres.

Michael is also a horticultural specialist, and he can provide you with expert advice on which plants to choose, how they will do in sun/shade, how they should perform for you in your garden – all free of charge.

We hope you can come out to support this worthy cause. If you don't have a garden, tell your friends that do! If you need more information or wish to volunteer, please call Michael at 416 578 6602.
